EXTRA STUDIES. Those Students who desire it, have assistance in pursuing studies not required by the laws of the College; such as the Hebrew and French Languages. And for the acquisition of the principal Modern Languages, as well as for Classical and Philological pursuits generally, peculiar facilities are furnished by daily access to the Library of the Philological Society.

DECLAMATION. In addition to the Exercises in Elocution, before the respective instructors of the several classes, each member of the Senior Class, in regular succession, is required to speak before the whole College, once every term, after evening prayers; and twelve (four from each of the three lower classes) speak in the Chapel, every Wednesday afternoon.

EXAMINATIONS. There is a public examination of all the classes, before the Faculty of the College, a Committee of the Corporation, and such other gentlemen as please to attend, commencing on the third Tuesday in March; and another of the three lower classes, commencing on Thursday of the week preceding the Annual Commencement. The Seniors, as candidates for the degree of A. B. are likewise examined in the various branches of their College studies, six weeks before Commencement.

EXHIBITIONS. One for the Senior Class, on the evening of the last Wednesday in November; and one for the Junior Class, on the evening preceding. Exercises in Elocution, for the Parkerian Prizes, on the evening before the Annual Commencement.

VACATIONS. The first, four weeks from Commencement; the second, seven weeks from the first Wednesday in January; the third, two weeks from the third Wednesday in May.

COMMENCEMENT—On the third Wednesday in August.

MANUAL LABOR. A convenient mechanical shop has been erected, and furnished with appropriate tools; and a Mechanical Association formed among the Students, for the purpose of obtaining regular and profitable exercise. Important improvements in this department are contemplated.

EXPENSES. The usual expenses of a liberal Education are considerably diminished, in this College, by the ample library of the Beneficent Society; from which indigent Students are gratuitously furnished with Text-Books; and other Students, at a small expense. Connected with the Institution is a Charity Fund, by which a few indigent Students are aided in paying their College bills.—There is also a Fund, for the encouragement of Literary Industry; from which three or four members of each Senior Class, distinguished for their attainments, and needing assistance, receive each a donation of 15 or $20.

The following statement embraces the principal neccessary expenses, viz:

Tuition, $5 per quarter, ...	$20
Room Rent, $1,50 per quarter, ...	6
Use of Library, Repairs, &c. about $2, . . .	8
Board in private families, from $1 to 1,50; average about $1,25; amounting for three Terms to about	50
	$84
Seniors and Juniors, 50 cents Laboratory Fee,	2
	$86

PAYMENT OF BILLS. At the close of each quarter, on the third Wednesday of November, of February, of May and August, Bills are made out and put into the hands of the Treasurer for collection. If in any case payment is not made immediately, interest is required. And if any Student surffers two College Bills to remain unpaid, it is made the duty of the Treasurer to report him to the Faculty, as delinquent; and if upon inquiry such delinquent Student fail to give a satisfactory reason, it becomes the duty of the Faculty, either to write to his parent or guardian, or to suspend him from the privileges of the Institution.

N. B.—To prevent unnecessary expenses, as well as for other important purposes, it is recommended, that every Student from a distance, especially if young, be placed under the patronage of some gentleman, who will attend to the appropriation of his money, and the payment of his bills.
